INSTITUTE ON RELIGION IN AN AGE OF SCIENCE

TWENTY-SEVENTH SUMMER CONFERENCE

JULY 26-AUGUST 2, 1980

STAR ISLAND, NEW HAMPSHIRE

THEME

CHANGE, AGING, AND THE PASSING OF TIME

The passing of time has fascinated and frightened human beings for as long as they have been on earth. Since time is within us and all around us, we are very much aware that our human existence is an experience in time.

There are cosmic dimensions to time's passage. We are part of a universe that has evolved and continues to evolve, and within that universe our sun and our earth are part of the evolutionary change. We live between the big bang and the big burnout.

Within our societies we note the changes that time brings. Not only the eternal but the changes that are required in our attitudes and life styles affect us deeply. One of the greatest of these changes is the passage we all make from childhood to old age. That passage, always a profound personal and societal event, attracts major concern in America today.

These phenomena of time's passing elicit a human response on many levels. Religion, philosophy, the natural and physical sciences, and the social and human sciences all focus on our topic.
