

Acknowledgments

As is our custom, in the final issue of the calendar year we acknowledge below those who are not on the editorial boards but whose help has been important for the successful operation of Zygon. This year, I also would like to give special thanks to two people who are listed as members of the editorial team—Bob Russell and Holly Loomis.

ROBERT J. RUSSELL has done an excellent job as book review editor of our journal from January 1985 to June 1988. I have especially appreciated his reliability in carrying out the entire arrangement and selection of book reviews at the Center for Theology and the Natural Sciences. With Bob doing this job, I could always count on high quality reviews being available when it came time to go to press. We all thank you Bob for the fine work you have done for Zygon.

Bob continues to serve Zygon as a member of its Editorial Advisory Board. His job as book review editor has been taken over by Tom Gilbert. Tom has retired as research physicist at the Argonne National Laboratories and is now associate director of the Chicago Center for Religion and Science, located at the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago. I look to Tom to continue the fine work done by Bob Russell.

HOLLY R. LOOMIS has been working full time as assistant editor for production since October 1986. In that capacity she has supervised the evaluation of manuscripts and has been the copy editor, proofreader, and production supervisor for Zygon. Holly has fulfilled her responsibilities with a friendly, personal style that has made her a delight to work with. Now she is applying her personal management skills, full time, in the Development Office at Rollins College. We miss her very much in our office, but she continues to work “after hours” for Zygon, supervising the evaluation of manuscripts.

To replace Holly as copy editor, proofreader, and production manager, the journal has hired Tim Yocum. Tim has a Ph.D. in religion and American studies from Duke University and has been an adjunct instructor in the Holt School of Rollins College since 1981. Tim is himself an excellent writer; I look forward to his work in helping authors produce quality writing for our interdisciplinary journal.

In order to publish four issues of Zygon each year, many people volunteer their time and expertise in the assessment of manuscripts. In so doing they provide valuable advice to the editor as he makes his final decisions concerning what to publish in the journal. Grateful acknowledgment is here given for the assistance provided by associate editors, members of the editorial advisory board, and members of the joint publication board, who are listed on the inside front cover of the journal. Appreciation is also expressed to all those listed below for their assistance during the past year in the editorial process.

James B. Ashbrook
Kent Bailey
Francis Bauer
C. L. Brace
David Breed

George J. Brooke
Joseph Byrnes
Walter E. Conn
Tom Cook
Ewart Cousins

Lindon Eaves
Hoyt L. Edge
Lawrence W. Fagg
Tom Fangman
Ursula Goodenough
Donald C. Griffin
Fred W. Hallberg
Jim Hutchinson
Alice Kehoe
Charles McLaughlin
H. Newton Malony
Jim Miller
Roy Morrison II

Howard Nemerov
Alan Nordstrom
Pat Polley
Charles Rosenberg
Allen Russell
Jonathan Schull
Kevin Sharpe
Robert Segal
Joe Siry
Paul Thompson
Arnold Wettstein
Walter Wink

Further grateful acknowledgment is given to the following people who, during the past year, have voluntarily provided valuable advice and assistance on administrative development and technical activities.

Andrew Baumline
Peggy L. Blackburn
Mark Blose
Elizabeth M. Brothers
Paul Carroll
Mercedes Gonzalez-Chavez
Thomas Cunningham
D. Craig Gill

Adriana I. Guadagno
Aurelio Lopez
Doris G. Lynn
Stella A. Pollard
Karen L. Roy
Annelle Shupe
Pamela A. Wuichet